

I feel that the current Indiana telephone privacy law has been effective. We can sit down and enjoy a family dinner with out being interrupted. I do not feel the need to 'screen' my telephone calls as much. Telemarketers have gone beyond assertive to aggressive to the point that interferes with my personal rights as a citizen!